Golf on Royal Cinque Ports . Deal, as it is more commonly known, lies along a continuous dune in a narrow strip of land between the English Channel and farm grazing land. It runs out along the seashore and returns inland on a parallel strip to its starting point in a traditional links layout. Deal has hosted the Open Championship in 1909 and 1920 and was to have done again in 1949 until the sea flooded the course. Please note a very limited supply of golf carts are available for hire. Certain restrictions may apply, please advise your Golf Travel Specialist.

Tuesday, June 9

Play Royal St George's , located on the Kent Coast of England. A links course full of awkward twists and turns each designed to derail an overconfident approach. Founded in 1887 and intended by its founder, Dr William Laidlaw Purves, to be a rival to St Andrewâ€™s in the South of England, St Georgeâ€™s is consistently ranked amongst the leading courses in the World. The Club occupies a unique place in the history of golf, for it was here in 1894, that the Open Championship was first played outside Scotland. In all there have been 14 Open Championships played at St Georgeâ€™s, more than any course outside of Scotland. The Open Championship returned to St Georgeâ€™s for the 15th time in 2021, when the Club hosted the 149th Open Championship.

(Handicap certification is required, and a maximum handicap index of 18.4 applies to all golfers).

Golf today at Swinley Forest . One of the finest example of heathland golf. The course is just over 6,000 yards from the back markers and has a par of 69, so by modern standards is relatively short but it is a beautiful course. It is noted for its wonderful collection of par three holes. Designed by Harry Colt and opened in 1909, Swinley Forest places exact demands on the highest skilled golfer, yet remain enjoyable to those less skilled. An exclusive members club Swinley has a unique charm and ambience.

OVERNIGHT: Sir Christopher Wren's House Hotel - 2 Executive Room

Saturday, June 13

Today play The Berkshire - Red Course . Designed by Herbert Fowler in 1928, each hole is played in seclusion, the mature sycamore, birch, chestnut and pine trees providing majestic tunnels for the rippled fairways. A straight game is needed to keep out of the trees and heather. Its highly unusual design with 6 par threes, 6 par fours and 6 par fives make for a very interesting round. The hallmark of the course is definately the par threes each superb in its own right.
